

Living with a Leg Ulcer

"You see when I had cancer, I had radio and chemotherapy. I'd drive to the hospital, get it done, come back, but I couldn't even drive with this leg ulcer, so you see, this disabled me more. Yes, the cancer treatment did make you rough but this is worse, absolutely horrible."

Norma's Story

When Norma noticed a bump on her leg her HCP said it would sort itself out and not to worry. Soon, another ulcer appeared and Norma was then assessed by her District Nurse and put into 4 layer compression therapy, but found the pain excruciating. The District Nurse said that compression hosiery may help Norma's quality of life. When Norma was switched to Biatain Silicone with 3DFit Technology[®] under compression hosiery, her pain was reduced meaning she could sleep, drive and get back to her normal life.
